GT Line Professional Case REVO21 PEL

EAN 8024482187228

Comfortable and light to carry

The REVO21 PEL professional case is the perfect solution for those seeking durability, security, and flexibility in any work environment.
Made of high-strength polypropylene through injection moulding, it is designed to withstand extreme conditions while effectively protecting tools and equipment.

Thanks to the completely redesigned REVO21 line, it combines innovation and practicality, making it an essential tool case for technicians, maintenance workers, and on-the-go professionals.
Also available in a wheeled version, it is ideal as a tool transport case for convenient and well-organised mobility.

Features

1. Advanced protection for tools and equipment, even in harsh environments.
Injection-molded polypropylene provides superior resistance to impacts, chemicals, and temperature fluctuations, making this tool case ideal for intensive outdoor use or industrial settings.
2. Maximum security with double key locks.
The two key locks effectively protect the contents from unauthorized access, ensuring secure storage of valuable tools.
3. Reinforced structure with aluminum profile.
The sturdy aluminum edging enhances the structural strength of the case, offering increased durability over time and extra protection against impacts and deformation.
4. Ergonomic handle with non-slip grip for comfortable transport.
The rubber-coated handle ensures a secure and comfortable grip, even with wet or gloved hands, making transport easy under any conditions.
5. Enhanced airtight closure with triple rear hinge.
The three rear hinges ensure an optimal seal, protecting contents from dust and moisture and extending the service life of your tools.
6. Modular bottom layout with adjustable dividers.

The lower compartment features removable and customizable dividers, designed to offer a flexible and organized tool arrangement to suit different professional needs.

7. Also available in trolley version for effortless mobility.

The wheeled version makes the REVO21 WH the perfect tool case for easy transport, ideal for professionals frequently on the move or covering long distances.

8. Modern and professional design, ideal for any technical sector.

The updated look of the REVO21 range meets both the aesthetic and functional needs of modern professionals, standing out as a high-level professional tool case.
